Earthquake Shocks in New Hampshire. The Grand Opera House at St. Louis Completely Destroyed by Fire—News Items

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov 23.—[Special.]—The past week has been a dull one. ... The city seems to be taking a rest after its political craze. The streets are quiet day and night.

The DeYoung-Spreckels affair is the only matter of general interest of the week. De Young's condition continues as last reported, and his recovery is now looked for with confidence, though it will be slow and painful. Spreckels is still at liberty, under bail, but has not shown himself since the assault. He is said to be cheerful and receives his friends who have called upon him in great numbers. Of the affair he says nothing except to reaffirm his original statement that he had no idea of shooting DeYoung when he entered the Chronicle office, but was provoked to it by the latter's attempt to get his pistol. If those who call on Spreckels mean thereby to announce themselves as his supporters he is not without many and powerful friends. Representatives of nearly all the very rich families have visited him.

AN INTERESTING TRIAL PROMISED

The preliminary examination will be postponed till De Young is able to appear. The trial will doubtless be of the greatest interest. De Young has already engaged first-class legal talent to urge the prosecution, and will doubtless spare no expense to convict, and on the other hand Spreckels will have the support of the united monopoly interests of the state, and all the money that can be used.

All over the state the newspapers are denouncing the assassination. The only exception is on the part of the Call and Bulletin in this city. Too mean to say a word favorable to a business rival and not quite mean enough to defend Spreckels' crime, they have ignored the matter, so far as expression of opinion is concerned.

The Chronicle this morning, with ... bad taste, prints a choice few telegrams of sympathy received by Mr De Young. Colonel Mapleson, Adelina Patti, Henry Irving, Maud Harrison, Emma Nevada and other theatrical people are paraded before the public with their words of sympathy. ... advantage, that it gives the public something to laugh at.

HIS CONDITION BETTER

De Young's condition this evening is more favorable. He is resting easy, ... and his temperature ...

THE THEATERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov 23.—[Special.]—The theaters have had a poor business during the week, and they deserved nothing better. At the Baldwin the stock company has been playing "The Private Secretary," ... the California has been closed. ... nothing especial at the ... Bush, and only the minstrels ... the standard and ...

To-morrow William L. Sheridan will ... at the Princess, supported by the stock company ... "The Fool's Revenge," ... played before.

Billy Emerson will launch a new minstrel company at the Bush street to-morrow night. He will work his company into condition here and then go to New Orleans, to play during the world's fair.

At the Grand opera house a local company will give "Blow for Blow."

Frank Weston and Effie Ellsler will probably go east this week, the Baldwin stock company, which they came out to join not proving a success.

Charles Cornell, one of the proprietors of the Standard theater, came down from Portland during the week, and will remain indefinitely.

Joseph Grismer, with Phoebe Davis, Mabel Bert and a good company, is at Butte City and will soon reach Portland.

POLITICAL NEWS AND GOSSIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov 23.—[Special.]—Political matters are at a dead standstill. Each of the senatorial aspirants is doing his level best. Apparently, Sargent has the best chance, and I think opinion is quite general that he will win. He certainly has the most positive strength, but this will, I think, be the cause of his defeat. He will, I believe, fail, just as Mitchell failed in Oregon two years ago. Horace Davis, who would like to be senator, but has no prospect at all, recently arrived from Washington. From him I learn that Mitchell is in very bad health. In fact Davis does not think he will live a year. He is suffering from a trouble of the throat, which it is thought is incurable.

The week has produced a bit of political humor. Barclay Henley, the only democrat returned to congress, and the single democratic representative of California in the coming administration, declares, in an interview, that he needs the prayers of all good people, and surely he is a fit subject for sympathy. He is overrun with applicants for office under Cleveland, and every man who has remained faithful throughout the long years of defeat, every man who bore a torch, and thousands who have done neither, want office. Henley says that if all who have applied to him as democrats had voted for Cleveland, Blaine would have been beaten 50,000 in the state.

THE EAST.

THE PLENARY COUNCIL

BALTIMORE, Nov 23.—The third solemn session of the third plenary council of the Catholic church of the United States of America was held to-day, at the Cathedral in this city, accompanied by all the pomp and ceremony which characterized the two former sessions. The public procession from the archiepiscopal residence to the cathedral was composed of a long line of archbishops, bishops, mitred abbots, superiors, religious orders, theologians and seminarians, all clad in robes of office. Pontifical high mass was sung by Archbishop Feehan of Chicago. The sermon was by Bishop Fitzgerald of Little Rock, subject, "The Sacrifice of the Mass." After the sermon, the apostolic delegate took his seat as president of the council, and a number of decrees which had been formulated were voted on by the council. The entire proceedings were in Latin. The session closed with benediction by the apostolic delegate. There will be a solemn closing of the council Sunday next.

SHOCK OF EARTHQUAKE

CONCORD, N H, Nov 23.—A slight shock of earthquake was felt at 12:30 this morning, followed sixteen seconds later by a heavy one lasting several minutes, during which large buildings were shaken. The second shock was accompanied by a heavy rumbling noise sufficiently loud to awaken people. The shocks were felt in various parts of the state.

BOSTON, Nov 23.—A windstorm began this afternoon, and at midnight raged with increased violence. The rain continues heavy. Much damage has been done to windows, awnings, etc. Telegraph lines are badly demoralized.

STORM AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov 23.—During a storm to-day several signs were blown down, one falling on a policeman on Canal street. Several costly plate glass windows on Broadway were shattered. Land wires connected with the cables were prostrated much of the evening, preventing the transmission of dispatches.

TERRIFIC STORM

WILKESBARRE, Penn., Nov. 23.—A terrific storm, accompanied by high winds, set in here this afternoon, and continued to a late hour. The rain was tremendous. Dwelling houses in the lowlands are flooded, and the occupants compelled to leave their homes.

THE INDUSTRIAL DEPRESSION

BOSTON, Nov 23.—The Waltham Watch Company has given notice that a large reduction will be made in the force in wages.

ALMOST A PANIC.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—In a burlesque at the Grand opera house to-night, smoke from one of the wings was blown upon the stage, causing a cry of fire. In an instant thousands of people were on their feet, and two or three women fell fainting. One of the actors stepped quickly to the front, and explaining the cause quieted all fears and narrowly saved a dreadful panic and loss of life.

TO-DAY'S WEATHER

WASHINGTON, Nov 23.—California, fair weather. North Pacific coast, local rains and partly cloudy weather.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

A "BAD MAN" ROBBED

NEW YORK, Nov 23.—A ... staggered up to a couple of policemen on Hester street near the Bowery to-night, and said he had been robbed in a saloon nearby of a pocketbook with $8 in it. He could not find the saloon, and was taken to the Tenth precinct station house, where a belt containing $330 in greenbacks was found strapped around his body. He said he was Samuel Gardner, a prospector from California, and told of several fierce fights he had been in as a cowboy. "If I'd a had my shooter with me," he said to the sergeant, "them fellows would never a got my filth."

THE CHICAGO JEWELER

NEW YORK, Nov 23.—Edward Morris of Chicago, jeweler, charged with having swindled several other Chicago jewelers, was brought up in the police court yesterday, and again remanded to await an order from Governor Cleveland for his extradition. The warrant for his arrest has arrived from Chicago. Morris offered to deposit $10,000 worth of jewelry found in his trunk as security for his appearance, but the offer was rejected.

NEARLY MURDERED IN HIS HOUSE

CHICAGO, Nov 23.—Edward B Case, a well known insurance man, was found in the basement of his house to-night, with his skull crushed in two places. From his incoherent words, the supposition is that the wounds were inflicted by a man named Roach, a watchman discharged by Case yesterday. It is believed he cannot live.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY

ELLENSBORO, Pa, Nov 23.—Last evening C B Williams fatally shot his wife, and then committed suicide by blowing his brains out. Domestic trouble was the cause.

THE FIRE RECORD

GRAND OPERA HOUSE AT ST LOUIS DESTROYED

ST LOUIS, Nov 23.—The Grand opera house in Market street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, was burned this afternoon, entailing a loss of from $125,000 to $150,000. Fire broke out in the front part of the basement, ascended by the stairways to the roof and thence spread all over the building, and in the course of three hours the beautiful theater, with its handsome decorations, valuable machinery, scenery and effects, was a mass of ruins, nothing being left but the bare walls. The Nat Goodwin company was to open to-night and all their baggage was in the house, but the fire starting in the front part of the house gave the company ample time and they saved all their property. John W. Norton, manager, was ... His entire personal wardrobe and valuable ... were totally destroyed ... about $70,000. Insurance on theater, ...

WHY A SUIT WAS DISMISSED.

In regard to Wells, Fargo & Co dismissing their suit against the N P R R Co in Washington territory, after an injunction had been granted by Judge Greene compelling the company to grant Wells, Fargo & Co equal transportation facilities for their express business, and commencing a similar suit here and obtaining a similar injunction, which was granted by Judge Deady a few days since, Judge Lewis of Seattle, of counsel for Wells, Fargo & Co, makes the following statement:

Some months ago Judge Greene granted an injunction by which the Northern Pacific company was compelled to allow Wells, Fargo & Co equal transportation facilities with those of any other express company pending the decision of the suit, which had been carried on an appeal by the railroad company to the supreme court of the territory. While this appeal was pending the change took place in the judicial district of the territory by which the fourth district was added. By this change Tacoma, where the suit had been brought, was removed from the district presided over by Judge Greene. Wells, Fargo & Co, fearing that owing to the change the restraining order might not be enforced as soon as was essential to their interests, began suit in the Oregon courts, and application was made to Judge Deady for an injunction similar to Judge Greene's. The Northern Pacific company, however, interposed the objection that the suit was pending in another court, having reference to the courts of Washington territory. In order to remove this objection the Washington suit was dismissed on plaintiff's motion. This action was not thoroughly understood and was somewhat of a surprise to the Northern Pacific's counsel, as well as to the public. The intention however, was simply to have a clear field for the Oregon suit.

The latter was accordingly pressed with vigor, and the order of Judge Deady now places the case on precisely the same footing as that on which it rested after Judge Greene's order. Wells, Fargo & Co, however, now have the advantage of Judge Deady's larger powers in enforcing the order, and are to that extent in better condition than before.

The suit would have been originally brought in Oregon, but at the time the action was begun the Northern Pacific company was not operating any road in that state. Now, however, the operation of the Kalama branch brings the entire subject under the jurisdiction of the Oregon courts.

The Rapid Growth of Socialism in Germany.

INTEMPERANCE IN SWITZERLAND

Abatement of the Cholera Epidemic—Riot in Paris—German ... Into an Unenviable Position—Old World Notes

NEW YORK, Nov 23.—[Special.]—The morning papers contain the following interesting cable specials from European capitals:

THE GROWTH OF SOCIALISM IN GERMANY

The optimism of Bismarck concerning the outcome of the socialistic movement, which developed so much vigor throughout the German empire in the recent general elections, is evidently not shared by Emperor William. The remarkable success of the socialists in electing their deputies to the reichstag caused his majesty so much anxiety that he has, in this instance, certainly questioned the soundness of the views of his chancellor by calling in other counsel to assist him in his dealings with the promoters of this new propaganda. Captain Carlowitz, of Saxony, is one of the emperor's favorite staff officers, and as Saxony has shown itself to be more thoroughly impregnated with the vices of Herr Liebknecht and his followers than perhaps any other state in the empire, he has been closely examined several times in the past few weeks by the emperor, in reference to the causes which led up to the extraordinary strength displayed by the socialists in his section. At a recent audience the emperor renewed his inquiries and showed such a degree of earnestness that Carlowitz told him bluntly that during the past two years socialism in Saxony had made enormous strides. He was not, however, prepared to explain the causes which evolved this abnormal political condition, but indisputable the fact remained. The emperor said he could not understand the discontent which had taken possession of his Saxon subjects. His only desire was that every German subject should be content with his present lot, and he greatly feared that his ardent anxiety for the welfare of the German people, which was always uppermost in his thoughts, was either insufficiently known or else the agitators maliciously threw dust in the eyes of their dupes, thus blinding them to the true road to national prosperity.

INTEMPERANCE IN SWITZERLAND

The labors of the special government commission appointed by the federal council several months ago to inquire into the causes of the frightful increase of drunkenness in the Swiss republic and to suggest a remedy, have resulted in decisive action by the council. ... attributed entirely to the extraordinary cheapness of French, Italian and ... native imitations. The cheapness of these vile and intoxicating compounds ... It will make the duty on imported brandies so high as to almost exclude them from the country, and will tax all domestic manufacturers of liquor, except those expressly made for export, so heavily as to make the procurement of brandy in any form by any but the very rich practically impossible in Switzerland. The enactment of the bill will probably meet with but little if any opposition.

THE CHOLERA EPIDEMIC

The panic which immediately followed the official announcement of the cholera epidemic in Paris was of short duration and has now entirely disappeared. Many of those who fled however, will not return, on account of a reasonable certainty of the reappearance of the scourge in a much more virulent form, next spring. It is now admitted on all sides that the season has been completely ruined, and that the distress among those who depend for a livelihood upon the presence of a large number of visitors at this time of the year, is increasing to an alarming extent. The action of the government of Brazil in absolutely prohibiting the importation of French products, if persisted in, will cause widespread ruin, and Ferry, French premier, is fearful that such commercial depression as must follow so radical a decree will seriously embarrass his administration, and lead possibly to a downfall of his cabinet. He is said to be moving heaven and earth in order to induce Brazil to agree to simple quarantine, instead of the severe embargo on which she at present insists. To-day there were no deaths from cholera reported, and very few fresh cases, all of which seemed of a milder type than heretofore.

A THRILLING OCCURRENCE.

A correspondent at Valencia, Spain, sends a report of a terribly sensational occurrence at the Princess theater in that city last Tuesday night. Miss Leona Dare, an American acrobat, was suspended from the roof of the theater by her feet, and held in her teeth the ropes of a trapeze bar on which a male acrobat known as M George, was performing. During the act Miss Dare was seized with a nervous fit and dropped the trapeze, when George and the apparatus dropped whirling to the floor. The audience was horror-stricken. Everyone rushed for the doors, and a panic ensued, in which many people were crushed and otherwise injured. Miss Dare clung to the roof, screaming hysterically. She was rescued with difficulty after the excitement had somewhat subsided, and is now confined to her bed, from exhaustion following the shock. M George is dying.

THE WAR IN CHINA

THE WISHES OF THE COMBATANTS

LONDON, Nov 24.—The Times' Shanghai dispatch says: The Chinese fleet is preparing to leave for Formosa. It is believed the French will demand the execution of the Tien Tsin treaty, to be permitted to occupy Kelung and Tamsui five years, and that the Chinese apologise for the Langson affair. The Chinese insist that the trouble at Langson was the fault of the French, and utterly refuse to comply with the terms proposed by the French. They believe the French will keep Formosa if they once get possession.

CHINA ASSUMING THE OFFENSIVE.

FORMOSA, Nov 21.—The Chinese are assuming the offensive in both Tonquin and Formosa. Before the French can resume the aggressive they must have an additional 15,000 men in Tonquin and 10,000 in Formosa. An expedition to Pekin would be cheaper, in the matter of both men and money.

HEAVY FIGHTING EXPECTED SOON

LONDON, Nov 23.—A dispatch from Hai Phong to the Times says heavy fighting is expected in Tonquin. Large bodies of Chinese are approaching the French forces from various directions.

FRANCE BLOWING HER OWN HORN

HONG KONG, Nov 24.—The reports of French victories in Formosa are fabrications, and their successes in Tonquin are overrated. The French invaders are at a standstill. Their operations are confined to the delta in Tonquin and Kelung harbor.

CANADA.

SAD NEWS CONFIRMED.

MONTREAL, Nov 23.—News is received of the fate of the schooner Laudire, before reported lost, and over which there has been great anxiety felt here. Two men just arrived from the Isle aux Coudres, stated that towards nightfall of the 5th instant they saw, off the cape's light house, a schooner on her beam ends, with a number of people clinging to her sides, and appealing to the light house keeper for assistance. They said the keeper heard them and immediately prepared to go to their rescue, but was prevented by his wife fainting from fright.

AUSTRIA.

GENERAL GORGEI EXONERATED.

VIENNA, Nov. 24.—Two hundred and eighty former comrades of General Gorgei, including Count Andrassy, General Klapka and many other notables, to-day presented General Gorgei with a manifesto exonerating him from charges of treason to the cause of Hungary at the time of the rising ... General Gorgei replied that he was prepared to die under the accusation of treason, but accepted with joy the courage of his comrades in restoring to him his reputation. He would take the recollection of their action to the grave as the soothing balsam of his last days. He thanked his visitors that they had not allowed him to depart without bidding them a hearty farewell.

FRANCE.

A BAD STATE OF AFFAIRS.

PARIS, Nov 23.—At a demonstration here to-day of workingmen and socialists several advocated the massacre and robbery of French ... Two speakers, who advocated moderation, were kicked into the street. Shopkeepers in the vicinity of the meeting closed their places, fearing violence and pillage. The police were unable to disperse the assemblage and were obliged to call on the military. Troops then took possession of the streets.

THE EPIDEMIC ENDED

PARIS, Nov 23.—The sanitary commission has ceased to hold daily sittings, and the cholera epidemic is considered ended.

THE EAST SIDE

OLD FOLKS' CONCERTS.

At a time when the abominations of modern vocalism are inflicted on the public at the average concert, it will be refreshing to return to first principles for a brief season, as is proposed to be done at the concerts to be given at Neppach's hall this and to-morrow evenings. The programme will include several songs that were in vogue a hundred years ago, and will be reproduced with their primitive simplicity and sweetness, together with more modern selections that will be rendered accordingly, while the toilets of the artists will be appropriate to the occasion, and lend to it an additional and attractive charm. The concerts are to be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church, and will be conducted by Prof. S. Bullock, than whom no one is more fitted, having had considerable experience in conducting concerts of a like nature, not only in Portland and East Portland, but also in California. The entertainments, while novel, promise to be unusually amusing and enjoyable, while the worthy object for which they are given make them doubly deserving of patronage.

THE TAX CASE.

The appealed case of William Dalton and others, wherein they contest the validity of last year's city taxation on account of values being raised above those appearing on the county roll, will probably come up in the supreme court and be decided the present week. Plaintiffs' attorneys are now ready with their brief, but the time of hearing the case will of course depend upon the time consumed by cases that precede it on the docket. As the city roll has to be turned over to the ways and means committee for equalization by Monday next, a decision can be reached none too soon for the accommodation of the city, as upon it depends the rating of property the present year.

MILITARY BANDS MAY COMPETE.

It will be remembered that recently a petition was forwarded to the secretary of war, through M C George from musicians of Portland and East Portland, having for its object the prohibition of bands of the U S army competing with civilian bands for local business, it being claimed by the letter that such was contrary to the rules of the service. Representative George has just received a reply from Acting Secretary of War Phil Sheridan which sets forth that the matter has been fully investigated by the department, and had resulted in a decision not to interfere—upon what grounds, however, is not stated. Consequently, military bands continue open to engagement outside the service.

ALBANY NOTES

ALBANY, Nov 2?.

The Blue Ribbon club will discontinue its regular meetings for one month.

Miss Alice Hay of Harrisburg, is in the city, the guest of Mrs S. S Train.

Hunters are unable to explain why no ducks have yet put in an appearance.

Hon R. S Strahan has been attending court at Corvallis during the past week.

The elders' meeting will be held at the United Presbyterian church next Tuesday.

Mrs W. T Hearst has returned from an extended trip to her home in the east.

Six marriages last week and seven this week shows the matrimonial market in Linn county to be lively.

Mr John Isom of the firm of Isom, Lanning & Co, has returned from an extended trip through the eastern states.

The new Presbyterian church at Lebanon will be dedicated next Sunday, Rev A. L. Lindsley, of Portland delivering the sermon.

Mr C H Butler and Mrs Susie Hudson of Harrisburg, were married in this city last Tuesday, George Humphrey, J P, officiating.

Miss Addie George has resigned her position in the Portland postoffice and returned to her home in this city, where she will remain during the winter.

Samuel Coulter, a farmer living near Albany, was kicked in the face by a horse one day recently and his nose broken and other severe injuries received.

Dr D M. Jones and Miss Elizabeth McGee were married at the Depot hotel in this city, Rev. J. F. Floyd officiating. They are now visiting at Oakland, after which they will return to Albany to reside.

A number of gentlemen of this city are forming a joint stock company for the purpose of building a steam launch. It will be built at Cherry & Parkes foundry under the supervision of Mr Renshaw, and will be sufficiently large to carry pleasure parties in the summer and hunters during the winter.

Mr Gamaliel Parrish, an old resident of Linn county, died very suddenly near his home at Rock Hill of rheumatism of the heart. Mr. Parrish was one of the pioneers of Oregon, having moved to this state in 1844, and located in Marion county. In 1846 he removed to this county, where he has since resided.

BEET SUGAR

It was shown in the special report of the agricultural department two years ago that the climate of western Washington and western Oregon is favorable to the cultivation of beets for sugar, and the experiment which Mr Meyer ran last year in his neighborhood, in connection with another in Illinois, confirmed the statement. According to that report the area of land upon which the rainfall is sufficient and properly distributed, and other important special conditions and character of the soil coincide to this industry, is comparatively limited, and it is doubtful whether within those limits enough beets could be grown under the highest possible farming, to supply the country with sugar. The average consumption of sugar per capita is both its pounds. The annual consumption is over 1,400,000 tons of refined sugar, and it is estimated that our increasing population will require within ten years 2,800,000 tons of raw sugar. The present tariff is plainly insufficient to encourage the production of the sugar in this country to meet this demand. The history of sugar planting in Louisiana shows that a high tariff has little or no influence in stimulating the production of sugar. The largest crops have been raised when the tariff has been the lowest. Our government now taxes the people $70,000,000 a year on sugar at an average rate of about 70 per cent ad valorem. But notwithstanding this high tariff, the Louisiana planters produce only about 6 per cent of the sugar we consume. The annual average value of the sugar crop in that state is only about 4 per cent of the tariff the people pay on imported sugar. It would be much cheaper to pay the Louisiana planter the value of their entire annual crop than to maintain the present tariff. The people, in fact, would save over $30,000,000 per annual by paying these planters a bounty equal to the full value of their crop and removing the tax on foreign sugar.

There is almost an universal demand for beet sugar. For the same class of sugar the people of England pay one-third less than the people on the Atlantic coast and in the interior of this country. Under these circumstances it is useless to expect that the tariff on sugar will be raised. It is maintained at its present high rate only by means of a combination of the large protected interests of the country. The representatives of the coal and iron from Pennsylvania, and of wool from Ohio pool their interests with the representatives of sugar from Louisiana, and thus have succeeded in exerting a decisive influence in congress against reduction. The only way the government could afford sufficient protection to enable the manufacturers of beet sugar to make any considerable progress would be to follow the the example of Germany and pay a bounty on their product. It could not prohibit the importation of sugars, as France did at the beginning of this century, for that would deprive the people of one of the most common articles of food. A gentleman in California has already recommended to the commissioner of agriculture that the government should pay a bounty on sugar made from beets, and allow the manufacturers to convert the molasses into alcohol without paying the revenue tax on that product. But the disastrous experience of the German empire, as related in an article on the sugar trade in the Daily Oregonian of the 21st inst., ought to make us very careful how we enter upon similar experiments for this country. The manufacture of sugar in Germany in accordance of the proportion between the drawback and the export bounty, has received an unhealthy and precarious stimulus. The real interest of national labor has been dangerously perverted, and the result has fallen grievously upon the agricultural classes of the empire. The markets of the world are now overflowed by raw sugar, and if the duty was abolished in this country sugar would be so cheap that it would be impossible to procure a bounty from the government for the manufacture of sugar from beets. We could very quickly obtain the cheapest sugar in the world, and Washington would become the richest agricultural region in the United States. But notwithstanding this, we do not think it the best policy to withhold such encouragement from the sugar industry as would be afforded by a moderate bounty. The present tariff is a heavy burden upon the Republican policy of encouraging home industries. Rum, Romanism and Rebellion are the three words that form the political battle cry of the party which has been in power for the last twenty years. At last reports thirteen superintendents—a bare majority—had sent in their votes. Following are the counties whose superintendents have voted, viz: Clatsop, Umatilla, Wasco, Multnomah, Columbia, Lake, Yamhill, Clackamas, Linn, Douglas, Jackson, Coos and Washington. The votes will not be opened and officially counted till all arrive, but it is known that all the above-named votes to reject the resolution, but most of the others have not given.

The people have not desired a change of text books, and it is not likely that there will be any general change as the result of the present vote.

Commander Gorringe, who is well known in Oregon, is recognized as one of the first engineers in this country, if not in the world. He has expressed an opinion to the effect that the proposed Nicaragua canal is not much more than a swindle from the fact that the estimated cost is only one-third. It was found by the French that their estimate of cost was only one-third of the actual cost. Gorringe, who is an old navy officer, has for years been engaged in the work of making surveys for the proposed canal, and he is entitled to be heard on the subject. He says that the estimate of cost is based upon the most favorable conditions, and that the actual cost will be three times as much. He says that the canal will cost $100,000,000 instead of $30,000,000, and will be completed in 1889 or 1890 instead of 1887, as the company claims. Gorringe, Commander Ammen, and equally high authorities, describe the De Lesseps project as next to impracticable in the matter of digging the channel, and that it could be dug cheaper would be greater than the wealth of the world could afford. The facts are probably half way between these extreme theories. The canal might probably be dug, but its cost would be so great that money for the expenditure could not be procured, and it could not be completed within the lifetime of anybody at present interested in the project.

Three years ago, under the enlightened policy of reciprocity secured in a tariff bill in Washington, Spain would have made a treaty with Hawaii which would have practically destroyed the sugar industry of the islands. The law provides for a great reduction of duties to persons on imports from countries extending like favors. The Antilles, however, were excepted, and the high tariff system which has ground Cuba down was retained. The proposed reform was not violent or radical but the law met with strong opposition at home, and the ring of the Bourbons protected Cuba on foreign labor, foreign capital, foreign consumers for our wheat and foreign cuba like for sugar. THE LINCOLN COUNTY ELECTION

SPRAGUE'S NECK

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In your issue of yesterday was published a letter from an assumed gentleman and defeated candidate in our recent county election, R A Hutchinson, as to the vote of our Spragues precinct. We would state in reply and in all the willful errors he has made in that letter the statement that business men of this place were not enough to vote three times and not to pass enough to ring, even a Democratic number of the mob to be raised. That he was not defeated, but counted out is also false and he was so satisfied that he was relatively defeated that he refused to sign a certificate as well as the signers of his further defeat. We can satisfy any one who would like to see us that we have the record of election by counting of the votes by the Democratic Judges of being correct. The presiding officer, in reply to Dr Fulton, in dignified manner left the latter to associate and should repudiate the attack upon Mr Blaine and even censure the assailant. As usual the wrangle followed, a portion of those present siding with Dr Fulton and Hiscock, and others siding with the presiding officer. The conference broke up in a row. It is to be remarked that whenever preachers get to quarreling over politics, old satan himself seems to take possession of them.

THE TENURE OF OFFICE LAW

It is possible under the provisions of the tenure of office law for the republican senate to prevent sweeping shrinkage in those offices to which appointments are made "by and with the advice and consent of the senate," before their terms expire. If Mr Cleveland should attempt such changes it would depend upon the will of the senate whether they should be made. Should he attempt to remove such an officer during the session of the senate, the new appointee would not take office until after his confirmation. The senate, being republican, might not see fit on the nomination or might reject. In either event the incumbent would remain in the exercise of the duties of his office. If the senate should not be in session the president might remove such an officer by assigning his reasons. When the senate convenes it would then have its power to reject the nomination, or should no action be taken before adjournment the new appointee would be functus officio for that office and the old officer would resume the functions of his office without further act.

In the case of the suspension from office under the tenure of office act of March 1867, section 1768, revised statutes, provides

During the recess of the senate the president is authorized, in his discretion, to suspend any civil officer appointed by and with the advice and consent of the senate, except judges of the courts of the United States, until the end of the next session of the senate, and to designate some suitable person, subject to be removed, in his discretion, by the designation of another to perform the duties of such suspended officer in the meantime, and the person so designated shall take, during such time, the oath and give the bond required by law to be taken and given by the suspended officer, and shall during the time he performs the duties of such officer be entitled to the salary and emoluments of the office, no part of which shall belong to the officer suspended. The person shall, within thirty days after the commencement of the next session of the senate, report to the senate the suspension, and the reasons therefor, and every such person who shall be designated to perform the duties of an office when no office shall be filled, nominate persons to fill all vacancies in office which existed at the meeting of the senate, whether temporarily filled or not, and also in the place of all officers suspended, and if the senate during such session shall refuse to advise and consent to an appointment in the place of any suspended officer, then, and not otherwise, the President shall nominate another person as soon as practicable to the same session of the senate for office.

This law was one of the restraints put upon President Johnson by congress under the supposition that he intended to undo the results of the war in regard to slavery, and his resistance to its provisions led to the attempt to impeach him. It is not probable that any serious conflict over the offices will occur. The republicans cannot do less than to follow their own party platform, "giving to the party in power those places where harmony and vigor of administration require its policy to be represented."

A bill has been introduced in the Vermont legislature providing that the citizen of that state shall hereafter vote only in the town where he lives, and that there unless a resident for at least three months before election. It has heretofore been, and is now, allowable for the Vermont voter to cast his ballot in any town of the state where he may happen to be on election day. It is stated, for instance, that in the recent election about one hundred and fifty votes were cast in Rutland by persons who lived in at least forty-two other towns of the state. The convenience of this arrangement, like a similar one in the constitution of this state, is exceeded only by its simplicity of its upholders. It is to be considered very fortunate that Vermont has not yet become a "pivot" state, for its opportunities for "repeaters" would seem to be exceptional. It is not surprising that a reform bill has been introduced in Vermont. It is a matter of wonder that it has been delayed so long. In this state we are fully aware of the dangers of such colonization frauds, but as this opportunity for repeaters is way back in the constitution, like many other provisions which ought to have been left to statute legislation. It is hardly worth while to attempt to change the constitution by separate amendments. The time will come when it enough reforms can be made, in order that legislation may become more flexible, and less difficult to amend to meet new wants that arise in the growth of the state.

With the exception of the Portland Monday meeting of the Ministerial Association, which is largely composed of Methodist preachers, the pulpits of the city were generally occupied yesterday by their regular pastors. Rev Dr Hill preached at the First Presbyterian church, Rev Dr Atkinson at the First Congregational, and Rev Dr Hunt at the Taylor-street Methodist Episcopal church. Rev Dr Fulton preached at the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and Rev Dr Hiscock at the Methodist Episcopal church, Rev Dr Fulton, and I cause the republican leaders of being corrupt. The presiding officer, in reply to Dr Fulton, in dignified manner left the latter to associate and should repudiate the attack upon Mr Blaine and even censure the assailant. As usual the wrangle followed, a portion of those present siding with Dr Fulton and Hiscock, and others siding with the presiding officer. The conference broke up in a row. It is to be remarked that whenever preachers get to quarreling over politics, old satan himself seems to take possession of them.

THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE

LOUISVILLE, Nov 2, 1884

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Of all the amusing phases of Russian statesmanship has of late most amusing politics can point to just closed the most thrilling as the attitude of some, we may say, most republicans towards the temperance cause.

It is stated that in New York temperance meetings are given up through lack of attendance and contributions are withheld from temperance organizations.

In some places in this state Good Templar lodges have given up their charters. The Oregonian judges, from the tone of public sentiment that the cause has been put back several years. Many other papers express the same view as the result of this election.

And all this bitterness over the fate, and cause is for what?

Because 50,000 votes of Democratic New York rest their claims of success upon the defeating Blaine.

Is it not about time for some one to speak to this blind mob, that prejudice with vengeance on the temperance cause, upon John and temperance, and not upon habit or custom must rule?

It is safe to say that not one-tenth of the earnest temperance men probably not one-tenth of the prohibitionists voted for St John.

And yet—oh, from pit of hell!—for the fall of the time cause all the prohibitionists must be punished, for the folly of that one-tenth that who do temperance cause must be abolished!

What is the worst charge made against St John and the few thousands that supported him?

Is it the out of spite for lack of recognition by the democratic Blaine, and cut off their own noses to spite their faces?

And true enough, it is! What their action was in this light is but folly.

If the folly of politicians in this interesting matter was not a matter of serious import, compared with the wholesale infidelity of apostasy upon which we base our hope of success, it would be worth the time spent in counting the votes. But the latter is the more important, and the temperance society would be stamped as an organization of fools.

Such is the logic which would destroy the temperance cause to punish St John and his supporters. But what are the temperance men of the rising, anyway? Is it to please St John? to do his dead bidding?

But for the sake of a few thousand cranks? No! It is for the sake of 100,000 men dying yearly through drink. It is for the sake of widows and orphans by the hundreds of thousands, around whose sacred hearts many painful strife rages unregarded, in whose desolate and anguished hearts the murmuring or falling of statesmen and politicians makes no echo. It is for the sake of the hard working millions of the nation, from whom the rum traffic wrings annually as much money as the government annually. It is for the sake of humanity and the future.

It is to tear from the throat of the American people a cruel whose foul and to this end votes are daily getting nearer the seat of life.

But no! These mighty logicians would let America vanish all help and say "Long shan't touch the cheer. I know it hurts, but St. John defeated Blaine, and I've got even with some fool. Oh! let it work about two years, and then if this St John will feel bad and I will be avenged!"

Well, is all for our political leader that he was defeated in the chair in the seat of Lincoln and Garfield?

James G Blaine can use his magnificent powers to better purpose than ruining a party of children.

PORTLAND, Nov 22, 1884

To the Editor of The Oregonian

I understand that it is intended by some to hold a meeting in this city next week for the purpose of taking steps to have the Democratic party of this state indicate its strength at the polls in the coming state election. Democrats who have been in the habit of voting with the party for years, and who have been active in its behalf, will not be willing to be used as tools by those who have been defeated in the party councils, and who have been defeated in the party councils, and who have been defeated in the party councils, and SIDEWALK TRUCK.—Yesterday afternoon as an OREGONIAN reporter was on his way to St. Vincent's hospital he noticed an old man wheeling a heavy store truck along the sidewalk on 6th street. He appeared to be considerably under the influence of liquor and while wheeling the truck was carrying the dilapidated skeleton of a Chinese lantern in one hand and a rusty old lard can in the other, clasped with the truck handles in his hands. A gentleman on the platform of the car said, "I'll bet he stole that truck." Just then policeman Branch hove in sight and stopped to investigate. ... —Branch arrived at the city jail with the old man, who gives his name as William Gallagher, and is charged with stealing a truck from ... woodyard. The old fellow objected to being searched in such a vigorous manner that he had to be thrown down, and when Captain Hoar was getting a knife out of his pocket he managed to kick that official on the head raising a lump as big as a potato and making him see a dozen million candle power electric lights dancing before his eyes.

... THANKSGIVING GIFTS FOR THE GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL.

... committee of ladies from the various parishes of Portland and East Portland met at the call of Bishop Morris to consider plans to put the hospital on a more permanent basis, to extend its influence in various ways and to awaken the interest of the people in its workings with especial reference to a Thanksgiving offering of money and goods. Collections for this purpose will be made in all the churches on Thursday. On Wednesday of this week wagons will be sent through the business portion of the city soliciting offerings. Groceries, canned goods, dry goods, crockery, money and supplies of all kinds ... used in a large family will be appropriate gifts. It is hoped that all called upon will give something, no matter how small. If so, the whole offering will be large and the managers of this institution will be encouraged in their noble work of caring for the sick and suffering. Those wishing to contribute to this object will please send their names and address to Dr. Hill at the Bishop Scott Grammar school, the chairman of this committee on collections. He will send for their offerings some day this week after the general collection on Wednesday.

IMMIGRATION WORK INAUGURATED

As this ... advances the work ... will be extended ... and temporary ... offices ... in this city ... work at eastern points ... instituting a ... system ...

Actuated by a desire to promote the ... interests of the state at large, and believing that the advantages and results most wished for by our people will be best subserved through a class of immigration which will double the present permanent farming population of the state, and naturally aid in the development of our vast agricultural resources, the board of trade inaugurates the great work of inducing such immigration. The work will be extended under a systematized plan of operations in entire harmony with, and in a measure supplementary to, labor of railway and government departments. Oregon offers to the thrifty and energetic farmer opportunities for success which cannot be surpassed anywhere in the world. That any contribution of money, time and labor in this direction will be returned to the contributors a hundred fold in the increased trade that will follow an increase of population there can be no doubt. In this state the right kind of immigration means rapid development and progress where new farms are taken up, mines opened, towns built and new establishment of new industries, and corresponding expansion of business not only in this city, but for every town and city in the state. The movement deserves the heartiest support of the general public and it is to be hoped that such support will be accorded, not only here but throughout the state.

J. C. LaRamseur, who left Portland about three months ago to enter into business at Independence, Oregon, has failed and made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, to Emanuel Chamness. The West Side speaks of the assignment as a misfortune brought about by a San Francisco jewelry firm, who pushed the payment for a bill of goods which their agent had promised should not be asked for until after the holidays. The want of ready money made the assignment necessary in order to protect many Portland creditors. There has been assigned more than enough property to meet all liabilities.

CLEARANCES [illegible]

CHARTERS [illegible]

FREIGHTS—The wooden ship Chowdenagh, 1,067 tons, has been taken up by Balfour Guthrie & Co. for wheat loading, rate private. It is generally thought she got less than 40s per ton, and being a large carrier probably 37s 6d option'd. Wood to direct port, January, has lately been offered at 45 option under 37s. The market shows no sign of cessation or recovery, and the offering of vessels later on at the rates would indicate the lack of confidence entertained by owners. San Francisco reports freights closed at 37s and 37s 6d for orders. The market cannot be called better, as many vessels can be had at exceptional rates. Our disengaged steel fleet consists of the Peter Sibbald, 1,616 tons, and Western Belle, wood, 1,500 tons. Several vessels have been due, will soon work to it and WHEAT. English advices [illegible] of a more steady character, spot price [illegible] This has already strengthened the European markets, and the next few days may see a good change. In part the Liverpool markets are affected by the prospects for early closing of canal navigation, which will lessen deliveries at the Atlantic seaboard. Liberal shipments out of Atlantic ports have ruled for some time, and the hope is expressed that the closing of canal navigation, by restraining the movement, will create some stir forward. A severe snap still at this time it will tend to check [illegible] movement made the most of. And is likely to be [illegible] This coast, it may event, could receive no benefit from first improvement, as freights stand ready to swallow a goodly portion of first advances. San Francisco says the holding strength of values is [illegible] exciting capable among buyers. In the face of very large crops and [illegible] scarcity of money there is reason for its surprise. In this connection the American grower has always shown great strength, and the matter has more than once been freely discussed. The Pacific coast grower has usually been dependent upon the demand from the other side of the freight situation, and those [illegible] before heavily regulated his selling. Freights are now cheap, but the [illegible] of holders [illegible] up local values and greatly lessened the forward movement. Our own market cannot be said to show any change. Valley is selling at $1 10@1 12½; the exchange being freely paid for good shipping grades. Walla Walla is quoted at $1 02½@1 05, but the inside figure is largely nominal. Bid for spring grades, as $1 02 is easily [illegible] with a fraction advance paid at times. The outward movement continues free, [illegible] vessels receiving good dispatch.

FLOUR. Receipts from the eastern section mostly sent to San Francisco for export to China and Europe. Orders are steadily being received for export lots. The local market is [illegible] at [illegible] prices.

OATS. Have a somewhat firm tone with [illegible] conditions. Some of the surplus going to San Francisco. Quote range of values 1@1½.

POTATOES. Movement very trifling, sales [illegible] per hundred for shipment. The [illegible] [illegible] and easily supplied.

PROVISIONS. Local business doing at [illegible] prices. Wool on the city curing basis is [illegible] [illegible] country cured 18@20c, should [illegible] but only [illegible] Eastern Hides. Lard, Local, in large lots and kegs [illegible] 12½c, choice pails 12½@13c.

BUTTER. California grades [illegible] under [illegible] first sort. Local [illegible] steadier [illegible] for common, and 25@30c for [illegible] choice.

POULTRY. Chickens rule dull and weak at $2 50@3 00, good old [illegible] sold at $5. Turkeys sold at 12@14c, the latter for very choice. Ducks and geese show no change.

EGGS. Receipts [illegible] [illegible] but sales to day were made at [illegible] Quote 25@27½c.

THE EAST.

Mr. Cooling Down and Wages Being Reduced.

THE DULLNESS MOVES GENERAL.

Last Day of the Large Strike Current on the Reduction in the South River Iron Mills—Various Eastern Items.

BY THE SUNDAY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Special.]—A [illegible] of leading business centers through the country this week there has been a slight gain in the demand for staple articles, which is most noticeable, however, by comparison with the extreme dullness which immediately preceded the election. There are as yet no visible evidences of a [illegible] which must increase as the demand for [illegible] of goods. The tendency of prices [illegible] continues downward, but there are some exceptions. In print cloths, in New England, the impression exists that the low prices have been touched, and that the low stock will warrant more firmness. The dry goods market generally may be said to be active [illegible] better tone, buyers showing less timidity. In the wool trade business has been very quiet, favoring buyers.

SMALL REDUCTIONS IN WAGES.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 22.—Workers in all the flint glass factories on the south side were informed to-day that wages will be reduced 10 per cent. Monday. If although the reduction will be accepted. The milling department employes of Park Bros. steel works were notified to-day of a reduction of 50 cents per ton, to take effect on Monday. A similar reduction will also be made in the hammer department in a few days. The men say they realize the dullness in trade, and will accept without a murmur.

CARPET MILLS CLOSED.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—A large number of carpet mills throughout the [illegible] district of Schuylkill, especially the Manayunk ward, closed to-day, causing a [illegible] of workers to accept 10 per cent. reduction.

At Phillipsburg, N. J., the cast foundry of the Oxford Iron Company will be blown out in a few days.

IN MAINE.

LEWISTON, Me., Nov. 22.—Hill and Anoka scrggin in the shut down to-night for a week. The Continental mill will run only two or three days next week. The Lewiston corporation will run on two-thirds time for the present. Farwell's mill at Lisbon as announced a 5 to 10 per cent. reduction, beginning next month.

A DENIAL.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov. 22.—Manufacturers deny that any cut in the wages of operatives is contemplated.

LAST DAY OF THE CATTLEMEN'S CONVENTION.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—The sixth day's session of the national cattlemen's convention began about 10:30 this morning. The chairman of the committee on resolutions reported favorably the resolution with reference to a rail land lying between the 98th meridian and the Sierra Nevada mountains, urging a memorial to congress for legislation permitting cattlemen to lease land in tracts of suitable size for grazing. The preamble and resolutions set forth that under the existing laws the tenure of ranch men to that section cannot be made secure. Hence ranchmen are not safe in proceeding with improvements, which would result in doubling or trebling the value of the cattle interests, as it is not safe to sink wells, build reservoirs or [illegible] other steps to redeem the lands from unfitness. It is proposed to discuss the existing homestead or preemption laws, but to reserve all rights to sell ers under those laws. It is proposed, however, to except California, Nevada and Oregon from the provisions of the proposed act.

Judge Wallace, of Colorado, of the same committee, presented a minority report, opposing the resolutions as a measure in the interests of large owners, to the prejudice of small, and one that would work a substantial repeal of the homestead laws.

The majority report was then adopted by a large majority, and an amendment was then passed by which the territories of Idaho and Utah were exempted from the provisions of the resolution.

A resolution introduced by Ryan, of Missouri, urging that the tariff on animal industry or [illegible] interests was [illegible] was laid on the table.

A motion of Lane, of Texas, the thanks of the convention was extended to the citizens of St. Louis for their kind entertainment of the convention.

The convention then adjourned sine die.

ADDITIONAL CHARGES AGAINST SWAIM.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—When the Swaim court-martial convened this morning, Judge Advocate Gardner submitted to the court an additional charge against General Swaim, embodying allegations which, it is said, Swaim sought an interview with Bateman after the latter had filed charges against him with the secretary of war, at which he [illegible] Swaim, wrongfully and improperly tried to evade and prevent an official investigation of these charges by obtaining from Bateman a secret letter to the secretary of war, withdrawing the charges and to show that the second letter was written at the instigation and request of General Swaim upon false representations by him to Bateman.

Counsel for Swaim objected to the admission of the new charge. On conclusion of the arguments the court went into secret session, to consider the question raised by this motion. After a long consultation the doors were reopened, and the judge advocate announced the decision of the court to be that the additional charge and specification having been referred to it by proper authority, the court directs that they be filed for future action. The court then adjourned until Monday.

THE CASE OF AH KEE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Special.]—In the case of the Chinaman Ah Kee, took on the ship Richard Parsons, discharged by Judge deady of the United States circuit court, the latter said the act which prohibits Chinese laborers from landing did not exclude Ah Kee, who was a sailor, and only came to this port with the intention of shipping again as soon as possible. He could not be termed a laborer, as he had no intention of competing with laborers here. On the question of nationality, raised by counsel for prisoner, who claimed to have been born in Hong Kong and was therefore a British subject, Judge Brown held that a Chinaman was a Chinaman, no matter where he was born, or where he had lived. A Chinaman could never lose his nationality, and the fact therefore, applied to any Chinaman, no matter where he was born. The judge discharged Ah Kee, on condition that he would sign a document in which he promised to leave the port within thirty days from the date of rendering the decision. This Ah Kee joyfully did, and he went his way rejoicing. The judge said that if he did not leave within the time specified he would be considered a laborer and arrested.

THE SCOURGE IN THE SOUTH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—[Special.]—The Sun's Wheeling special says: A letter received from a representative of a lumbering firm buying timber in the extreme south end part of the state, and in the afflicted portions of Virginia, confirms the worst reports sent out concerning the epidemic and drouth afflicting that region. Forest fires are frequent, and the village of Pertrich is totally destroyed. The people would gladly leave, but have no means. Relief committees are organizing in some of the larger villages. An appeal for food, clothing and medicine will soon be made. The Methodist minister at Gladesville, in the Cumberland mountains, buried his wife and two children, making their coffins and digging their graves with his own hands. He said a simple burial service, and was the only mourner. Day and night he labored without ceasing, burying scores, acting as physician, preacher, undertaker and gravedigger, and still refuses to leave his field of labor. His name is Rev. Joseph Emmons, and he has a salary of less than $300 yearly.

CONFEDERATE BONDS IN DEMAND.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. [Special]—L. Moore, of Biddeford, Maine, informs the Tribune that Monday, after it was known that Cleveland was elected, a Mr. Pierce, of California, an old resident of Maine, now visiting Biddeford, cabled an order to London for the purchase of $50,000 worth of confederate states bonds, and authorizing him buyers to pay any price for them up to 5 per cent. of their face value. The purchaser is wealthy, has speculative turn of mind, and does not know when he expects once confederate bonds paid, but knows that he expects to make money on of the transaction.

CHAINED FOR THIRTY-SIX YEARS.

READING, Pa., Nov. 22.—A representative of the state board of charities to-day discovered that Nicholas Sidell, insane, aged 78, was confined in a small log hut on a farm near the city where he has been kept chained for a period of thirty-six years by his nephew, who lives on the farm. The latter refuses to permit visitors to see the unfortunate man. The case will be reported to the state officials, and the man will probably be removed to the asylum.

THE SHOOTING OF DE YOUNG.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—[Special.]—The Times, which headed the San Francisco tragedy the first day "Mike De Young shot," has the following editorial to-day: "The outrageous assault on Mr. De Young, owner of the San Francisco Chronicle, was murderous in its intent, and there are fears that it may be murderous in its effect. In that case it will be a scandal to San Francisco if the murderer is not punished. There was no palliation whatever for his act.

SPORTING NOTES.

KNOCKED OUT IN THE THIRD ROUND.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22.—In a glove fight between Jack Kane of this city and Georges Fenske, exact weight 120 pounds each, Kane was knocked out in the third round. Kane was to receive $25 and provided he stood up before Fenske four rounds.

THE FIRE RECORD.

BURNED TO DEATH.

LISBON, O., Nov. 22.—[Special.]—A fire in the house of Michael Mulvey near this town destroyed his house and he and his two children were burned to death. Loss $10,000.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES.

ENGLAND.

THE ADAMS-COLERIDGE AFFAIR.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The action for libel brought by F. M. Adams, barrister, against Bernard Coleridge was resumed to-day. Adams concluded his opening remarks. He said he had much affection for Miss Coleridge, but the had no thought of marrying her. The attorney general, Adams, re-audited that the plaintiff had increase, and in not be remunerated. The letter subscribed that the Bernard letter was privileged communication and Adams in order to maintain his case must prove express malice or ill will on the part of Bernard. He declined to prove malice in the jury, reserving it himself. However, the right to decide the question as a point of law in case the verdict was not rendered by the evidence. Adams could not, his statements, and said that he and Miss Coleridge were now reconciled to get married. The case was submitted to the jury, which after some deliberation brought in a verdict for plaintiff for £5000. The judge overruled the verdict and gave a verdict for Coleridge, with costs.

A FATAL QUICK DISCHARGE.

MONTREAL, Nov. 22.—By an order from the royal the Laval university is designated as the only one in the province of Quebec, and all colleges are ordered to affiliate with it. The Jesuits, all the professors to obey the order, declaring that the Jesuit order is no bar to [illegible] such rules regarding education that even the pope can no change them.

THE DEPRESSION IN SHIPBUILDING.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The distress among English ship building workmen is increasing. At Shipbuilders on the Tyne, Clyde and Mersey there is scarcely enough work for a possible working force and power now in effective operation.

MISS FORRESCUE LEAVES THE STAGE.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Miss Forrescue, who obtained a verdict of £10,000 damages against Lord Garmoyle, has temporarily retired from the stage.

GERMANY.

THE CONGO CONFERENCE.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—At to-day's sitting of the Congo conference, John M. Kasson, American delegate to ascertain precisely the scope of the [illegible] of Berlin, [illegible] Kasson said that [illegible] the United States [illegible] the Congo basin. Technical delegates to the conference have not been examined with regard to this question. The conference will meet again Monday. It is generally believed England has agreed to recognize the International African Association as a state. It is reported the agreement of Germany with the International African Association consists of two parts. The first part enumerates the guarantees that the association will give to Germany, and the second part enumerates that Germany will recognize the flag of the International African Association as the flag of a friendly state.

Members of the Congo conference dined with the emperor to-night, and at the request of the emperor each delegate was formally presented him by their respective ambassadors. There were eighty persons at the dinner, including Crown Prince Frederick William, his son, Prince Frederick William, and the royal family, together with generals, ministers and court officials. Bismarck sat opposite the emperor. There were no toasts offered, but after the banquet the emperor entered into quite a long conversation with several delegates.

THE CONTEST FOR TERRITORY.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The German government is credited with an intention to annex several islands in the Pacific ocean, as well as a part of New Guinea. The North German Gazette makes a bitter attack upon English extensions which have been made in the Pacific. It says the British high commission recently inflicted a mock sentence of eight days' imprisonment upon pirates of the schooner Stanley, who plundered several German merchant firms at the Dauphren Islands and who, after massacring a number of natives, took 100 of them slaves to Queensland. The pretense of Australians, says the Gazette, is humanity, has no basis in fact, and Germany is bound to insist upon the immediate annexation of unclaimed islands in New Guinea, mainly for the purpose of protecting the natives from English barbarities. A Brussels paper announces that Germany is preparing to extend its protection to the entire sultanate of Zanzibar.

BISMARCK TALKS FRANKLY.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The progressists abstained from voting in the election of president of the reichstag to-day. In conversation with a prominent conservative to-day, Bismarck said there was no intention on the part of the government to propose the levying of any new taxes. If the reichstag reduces or rejects any items in the budget of revenue submitted by the government, he said he should accept the decision of the reichstag, leaving to it all responsibility therefor. He stated that he considers it the duty of the Reichstag, after rejecting all proposals of the government for taxation, to discover fresh means for covering the necessary expenditures of the nation. The progressives will again propose a bourse tax.

THE WAR IN CHINA.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR TONQUIN.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—Four large steamships are embarking 1,400 men each at Algiers, to reinforce the French army in Tonquin.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

STABBED BY A WOMAN.

VICTORIA, Nov. 22.—A woman named Nettie Hoyt entered a saloon on Yates street this evening to collect a sum of money from the bartender. An altercation ensued, when the woman stabbed the man in the back, inflicting a slight wound. She was arrested.

THE COUNTY SEAT CONTEST.

SPRAGUE, Nov. 22.—[Special.]—Sheriff Doty, with three men, started for Davisport this morning to command the county records. They will probably encounter an armed force of forty or fifty men.

POLITICAL NEWS.

Postmaster-General Hatton Makes Another Defense.

CLEVELAND EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS

Mugwumps Not Consulted with Reference to Cabinet Appointments—Other Political Points.

BY THE SUNDAY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The following comes from Postmaster-General Hatton:

Failed Express Box Mowed, Iowa.—Exchange papers contain a dispatch, dated Des Moines, purporting to give the substance of a letter written by J. S. Clarkson, Iowa member of the national republican committee, in which he says the whole fight could be traced to orders given by Hatton's order. This is wholly incorrect. Reports similar to this have been sent out before, and the willful exhibition of such statements, and killed. When I took up the stick was protecting Capt. [illegible] Lieut. [illegible] James Murray, aged 12, was hit in the chest and killed. Private John Lonergan, aged 14, was struck on the right thigh, the bullet entering his body. He was taken to hospital, [illegible] Private Black, Charles Shaffer and Wm. Watson were badly hurt, and several others were [illegible] and wounded or in the panic.

WILL BUS ENDEAVOR TO FRUSTRATE.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—The International navigation company, which recently purchased four American-built steamships of the American steamship company, and which assumed the [illegible] ago contracts with other [illegible] H. Ellis speeds all of which have been and still are now before that port and Liverpool under the title of the American line, is seriously considering running American built steamers under the British flag, instead of the American flag as at present. "Under the British flag," said an officer of the company to-day, "we could run these steamers at a rate considerably less cost, for the reason that now we are obliged to ship men at American ports, and American labor is much higher than abroad."

A VALUABLE INTERVIEW.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 22.—The Chamber of Commerce to-day passed resolutions of the canal, [illegible] lowering the waters of Lake Tohopekaliga twelve feet, and vesting in the organization a [illegible] to the interior of the state.

THE CLERAL COUNCIL.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 22.—The Secret session of the plenary council continued [illegible] at the seminary of St. Sulpice, and a conference of bishops and theologians was held in the afternoon at the cathedral.
